

Safety for your Plant

AICHELIN: Living Reliability! At AICHELIN, safety for man and machine is one of our essential philosophies!

REBUILDING AND MODERNIZATION
Plant Safety

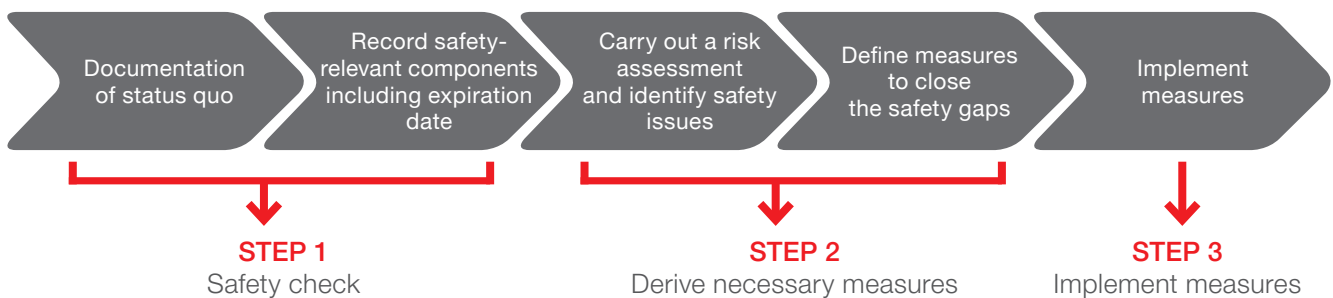

THE SAFETY OF YOUR PLANT CONCERNS YOU TOO!

Thermal processing plants always bear certain potential hazards, such as asphyxiation, poisoning, fires, or explosions. Accidents causing injuries happen every year, and they are all avoidable! It does get problematic for the operators of heat treatment plants, as those have a particularly long lifetime. This means that the plant safety must be evaluated regularly, as:

- Safety is not subject to grandfathering
- Safety is subject to the state of the technology
- Safety must be constantly and recurringly adapted
- Safety is the plant operator's responsibility during operation
- Most accidents happen during the night shift and during irregular operation

AICHELIN CAN SUPPORT YOU IN THIS MULTI-STAGE PROCESS!

This is the process to take to ensure a safe plant (= operator's responsibility). Measures must be taken according to the TOP principle!

- Step 1: Based on a safety check, find out about the status of safety of your plant.
- Step 2: Find out what to do to comply with your responsibility as plant operator and thus obtain legal certainty.
- Step 3: Implement the measures step by step – we will support you in prioritizing and implementing the measures!
